MANTA MIPS

Mips

The all new MET Manta Mips is an excellent example of MET's aesthetic and contemporary design. Led by the insight of pros and the demands of cyclists, the helmet takes on four areas of focus: safety, aerodynamics, fit and style. With these elements in mind, the design of the new Manta Mips draws on the natural geometry of its predecessor as a guide, keeping key components like the NACA Vent to drive maximum efficiency with minimal drag; whilst enhancing essential features, including a Fidlock magnetic buckle and inlet ports for sunglasses.

SAFETY: At MET we take cyclists' safety very seriously; every single production batch of helmets is strictly tested in our own lab. To enhance safety further, the new Manta features the MIPS-C2® brain protection system, which allows the helmet shell to slide relative to the head in the event of a crash, redirecting potentially harmful rotational energy.

AERODYNAMIC: The Manta Mips is more aerodynamic than its predecessor thanks to its lower and tube-shaped profile at the rear, which we developed with specific wind-tunnel testing in the NEWTON laboratory of Milan.

NEW MANTA MIPS	77° (Active)	Best in test
MANTA 2019	77° (Active)	+ 4 Watt vs Manta Mips

FIT: Beyond its technical prowess, the Manta Mips is also exceptionally comfortable. The 360° head belt ensures that there will be no pressure points on the skull and its internal shape is inspired by the award-winning MET Trenta 3K Carbon.

STYLE: Sharper and more cutting-edge. The bright launch colourway is a liquid metallic red that comes from our 2021 palette, inspired by the UAE Team Emirates livery that will appear at the first World Tour race of the year.
